Chest X-ray quiz

Answer and discussion

The problem is large bilateral pneumoperitoneum from acute peritonitis. You would describe this appearance as bilateral radiolucent collections of gas under each hemidiaphragm. This is a very urgent matter. Lungs, heart and mediastium are normal.

For question see page 180 of this issue.